Campus Sustainability Month

Since 2003, universities across the nation have been sponsoring Campus Sustainability events which celebrate sustainability in higher education.

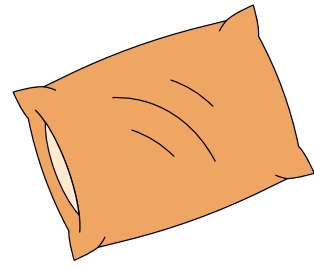

CSM serves as an arena for sustainability awareness and education. We want everyone to be effective leaders in their environment, whether that is Texas A&M, Bryan, College Station, or at home. Our goal is to expose, educate, and empower attendees with the skills they need to be more sustainable—environmentally, socially, and economically.

Sustainability Tips

Decorations

Consider reusing old decorations or making your own from spare arts and crafts supplies.

Trick-or-Treat

Use (and decorate) household items to collect candy in such as a bucket, pillowcase, or an old bag

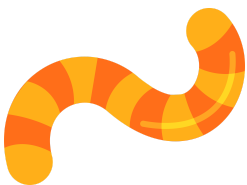

Jack-o-lanterns

Don't throw away the inside of your pumpkin. Toast the seeds, make pumpkin pie or muffins, or compost it!

Walk!

Instead of driving to another destination, consider walking around your neighborhood and reduce carbon emissions while getting to know your neighbors.

Treats

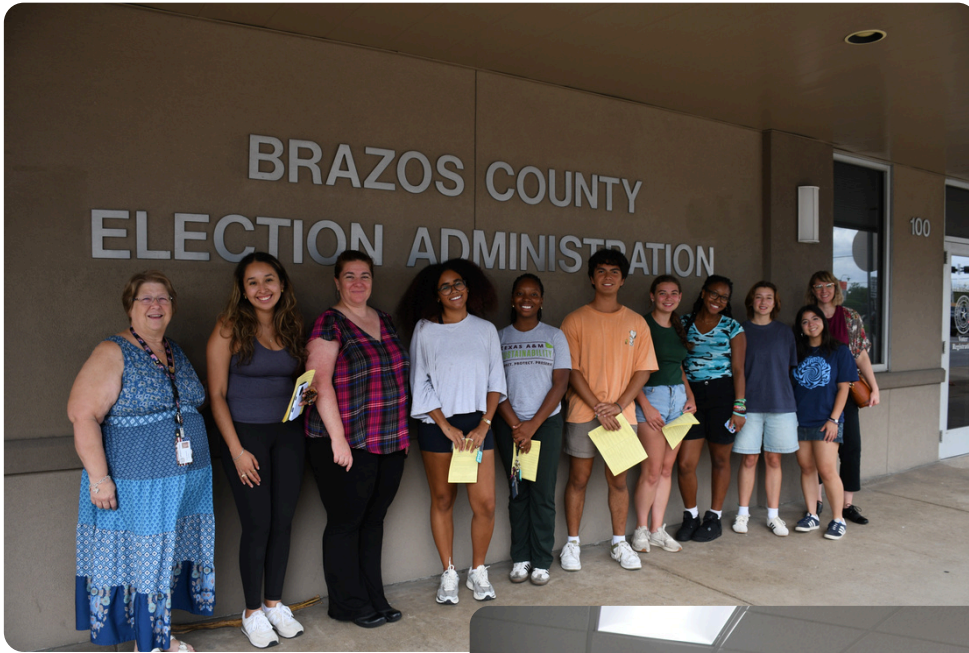

Consider buying locally produced foods, candies and treats. Look for minimal or recyclable packaging.

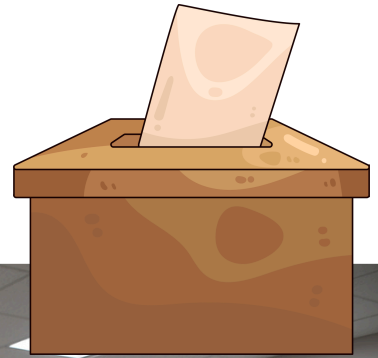

Compost!

You can compost organic matter from party foods to pumpkins. Other items like plastic and aluminum can be recycled!

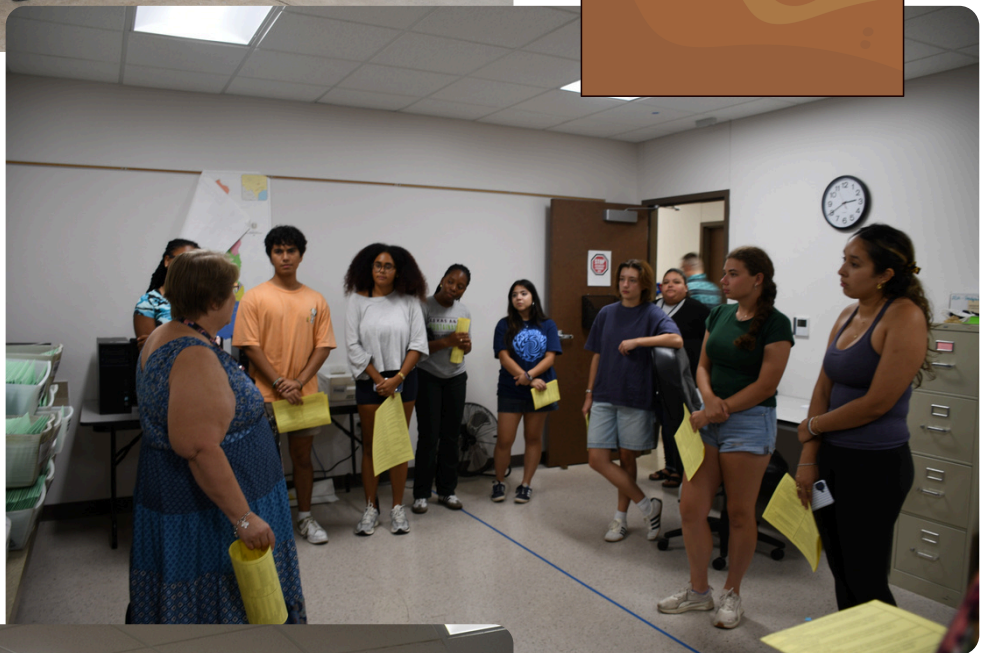

Internship Highlights

Last month, the interns visited Brazos County Election Administration!

They learned about ballots, voting day rules, and even mail-in voting!

We're so excited for what they have planned next. Hint: Check the Events Calendar
